PA Energy Association Announces 2015 Safety Award Winners

HARRISBURG (May 14, 2015) -- The Energy Association of Pennsylvania has officially recognized 8 companies for outstanding safety performance. Safety is of paramount importance to the Energy Association and its member companies. "We congratulate our members for their continuing commitment to improve safety for their customers and in the workplace," said Terrance J. Fitzpatrick, President and CEO, Energy Association of Pennsylvania. "For over two decades, the Association and our predecessor organizations have been recognizing companies for their efforts in safety through the EAP's annual Safety Award program."

The statewide electric and natural gas utility company members of the Association's Accident Prevention Committee wish to congratulate the following companies as this year's safety award winners!
